Objectives of the Course

This is a theoretical or empirical research undertaken on a business topic in the student's area of concentration on the MBA Programme. This is expected to be an independent research study by the MBA candidates on a topic of their own choice. Subsequent to the approval of a Thesis Proposal, a Thesis Supervisor is appointed from among the MBA Faculty members of The University of Nicosia to work closely with the MBA Candidate. The Thesis may be in the form of an academic or a scientific (publishable) paper at an appropriate graduate level. The ultimate objective of this requirement is to test the ability of the MBA Candidate to select a problem, set up a framework for it and analyze it in an academic perspective so as to end up with meaningful recommendations in the end. The paper requires significant focus on a business issue viewed through academic thought and research and presented in the proper writing style. The MBA Thesis is not to be a description of a situation, but an analysis and evaluation of a problem with specific recommendations given based on a combination of research and original thinking.

Assessment Methods

Submission and presentation of the final thesis in a Committee consisted by the Supervisor and two other faculty members.
