Deadline for applications. 01 September 2023. The results will be announced two weeks after the deadline.

Scholarship Terms

1. Registration to an MSc Program: To be eligible for the scholarship, applicants must have been accepted and registered for one of the following MSc Programs: MSc Biomedical Sciences, MSc Clinical Dietetics, MSc Sports Nutrition, and Dietetic Intervention. The applicants must hold a BSc in the field of Life and Health Sciences from the University of Nicosia or any other University. Outstanding coursework or incomplete grades must be resolved before applying for the scholarship.
2. Academic performance: Applicants must have a CPA (Cumulative Point Average) equal to or higher than 3.0 /4 (7.5/10 for Greek Universities or First-Class Honors-70%+ for UK Universities) to be considered for the scholarship. In addition to their application, the applicants must provide a personal statement of max. 500 words (including career goals, Vision of their future specializing in their fields, and anything they consider relevant)
3. Financial needs: Financial needs may be considered a tiebreaker between applicants with the same GPA. If two or more applicants have the same academic qualifications, the scholarship committee may consider financial need a secondary criterion for awarding the scholarship. Financial needs could be assessed based on family income, student loans, or other financial obligations. Students need to provide evidence of financial need, such as an income statement.
4. Research experience: Research experience may be considered a tiebreaker between applicants with similar academic qualifications. If two or more applicants have the same CPA, the scholarship committee may consider research experience a secondary criterion for awarding the scholarship. Applicants with demonstrated research experience, such as a thesis or research publication in a relevant field, may be given preference.

5. The scholarship will be valid for the duration of studies and subject to a successful academic performance review at the end of each semester
6. Students are eligible to apply for more than one type of Scholarship/Financial Aid, but they will be awarded the scholarship constituting the highest amount.
7. The University of Nicosia and BIOATRIKI reserve the right, at its sole discretion, to award or not award any scholarship to any student and/or to change the number of scholarships awarded, their eligibility requirements, or any other aspect of the financial aid program.

Note: Criteria 3 & 4 will not be the primary criteria for selection, and all applicants who meet the primary criteria will be given equal consideration.
